To All Whom It May Concern

Re: Jireh School 2018

The KingsWay Trust wishes to advise that a decision has been made to relocate Jireh School to the campus that is currently home to Immanuel Christian School, situated at St George's Road, Avondale from 1 January 2018.

Immanuel School will close at the end of 2017.

This decision has been taken after thoroughly reviewing all of the available information, hearing from and understanding the impact of any move on some current Jireh families and appreciating the flexibility afforded to us by the Laidlaw College community.

The Trust remains committed to supporting the future delivery of Christian Education in the Kumeu area as our resources allow. We will also continue to investigate alternative suitable sites for future schools throughout the central-western corridor of Auckland.

The Trust wishes to now work with the Establishment Board of Trustees and all families with the intention of making it achievable for as many students as possible to make the transition to the new school site. This will include developing an appropriate transport service that is timely, well supervised and as convenient for as many as possible. This will continue for as long as required to support Jireh families and staff.

The next 3 terms will be full of challenges for us all. We hope and pray that you will join with us to face these with the confidence that we have a faithful God, Jehovah Jireh, who will continue to provide for us as He has done over many years.

We look forward to meeting with you next term to determine next steps in this journey together.

Wishing you a blessed Easter season, a poignant time of death, resurrection and new life for all.

Yours sincerely,

Vaughan Darby
